

Library RULES

- In order to access the Library, you must present a Reader Card in your name. Reader Cards are provided free of charge and are renewable annually.
- Collection publications requested using On-line Public Access Catalogue (webOPAC) computers are delivered by Library personnel. The maximum number of requests per title per consultation is three. Therefore, one of the initially requested titles must be returned before a User may submit a new petition.
- The consultation of periodic publications for the previous year or for collections that are not currently subscribed to will be made by previous appointment.
- Internet access of the On-Line Public Access Catalogue computers in the Reading Room is limited to research consultations concerning Library materials.
- Library material may not be removed from the premises.
- Notes, writing materials, laptops and photographic cameras will be admitted to the Museum Library. Backpacks, rucksacks, umbrellas and other bulky articles, however, must be deposited in the Museum's Left Luggage Department.
- Entering the Library with food or drink is strictly prohibited.
- All laptops and mobile phones must be silenced before entering the Reading Room. Should a Reader wish to make or receive a telephone call, then he, or she, must leave the Reading Room.
- All Users of the Reading Room must observe the indications given by Library personnel at all times.
